

Summer art programs set

Coming up with new ideas that will interest kids is the first step for the 26 weekly specialty programs Sheryl Intrator Urman has created for her Art For Learning LLC in Englewood for first- through 12th-graders. This year she is adding two more art programs: Mosaic and Glass Arts and the Princess Experience. Most art programs are based on history. Urman said she enjoys teaching the programs to the students and training her hand-selected teachers and artists. This year both of Urman's daughters will be working as assistants, and she is happy to spend time with her own girls since that was a perk of the original creation, she said. Most programs were designed upon her daughters' interests. Urman asked her daughters their opinion about the programs they have completed, and the girls told her they "feel more well rounded, having taken the classes."
