Exhibition runs through Sept 11th 2016

Flex Tour: You choose the day!!!!!!

Impressionism: American Gardens on Canvas

Special Exhibition:

New York Botanical Gardens

Sheryl Intrator Urman, artist and art lecturer, will discuss the American Impressionists Frederick Childe Hassam and John Singer Sargent, and their development as American Artists and what made them different from their French Impressionist counterparts ie: Claude Monet, August Renior, Camille Pissarro and others. We will visit The Mertz Library which has assembled paintings by these iconic American Impressionists, from private collections, which haven't been seen for years.

The Botanical Garden has once again used artwork to inspire their special exhibition of the gardens to reflect the Impressionists artwork. You will be able to stroll through beautiful evocations of the gardens depicted in their quintessential landscapes at the turn of the 20th century.

Time to take the tram on your own and enjoy the other areas of this beautiful National Historic refuge including the Peggy Rockefeller Rose Garden which should be a sea of warm color – red, white, yellow and pink of nearly 700 flowers!
