Bring your child or grandchild, let them show you how much they know about Egypt. I will be glad to allow them to share their knowledge. Or come with a friend! Meet us at the Met: at 10:45 when I will be your Private Docent for 2 tours. First. I will guide you through the permanent Egyptian galleries. Where I will introduce you to a female Pharaoh. I will show you some of the artifacts relating to the famous King Tut and walk through the Temple of Dendur. See how the daily life of the Egyptians is recorded through art. Learn why funerary items are treasured as art. I will help you understand the Ancient Egyptian culture and the connection to the objects. Learn how their belief in the afterlife influenced and dominated their life and social structure.

After we lunch in the Cafeteria (brown bag it or find something there), We will return to the Egyptian Wing where we will continue our tour and seek out The Book of The Dead. I will point out some special correlations to Passover from the Book of the Dead. Sheryl has chosen a very quiet gallery for you to explore capture an Egyptian memory through your art, using art supplies she will furnish, supplies will be included.
