GEORGIA O'KEEFFE: Visions of Hawai'i Bronx Botanical Gardens

Meet us at 11:00, let's journey together to the world of Georgia O'Keeffe, best known for her paintings of enlarged flowers, New York City Skyscrapers and New Mexico landscapes.

Our Garden provided docent will guide us through our stroll through the Conservatory which has been re-imagined her little known depictions of the Hawaiian Islands and the plants and landscapes that inspired them.

Over a private lunch, Sheryl Intrator Urman, will fill us in on the life and times of this complicated woman: her loves, her relationship with Alfred Stieglitz and we will learn about her development as an artist and her move to almost total abstraction . We will learn why she is recognized as the "Mother of American Modernism".

Sheryl will have created the complete picture before we continue our day viewing many original paintings and works on paper in the Mertz Library.

Time to take the tram on your own and enjoy the other areas of this beautiful National Historic refuge including the Peggy Rockefeller Rose Garden which should be a sea of warm color – red, white, yellow and pink of nearly 700 flowers!

THE COMPLETE PICTURE: $95

INCLUDES: Garden admission, docent tour, Sheryl's lecture and lunch.
