

Art For Learning, LLC.
Egyptian Art Galleries
“Meet me at the Metropolitan Museum of Art”
Chol HaMoed
Wednesday April 11th, 2012

Start the day, at the group entrance inside the Metropolitan Museum. We will begin our lecture about Ancient Egyptian Art lead by Sheryl Intrator Urman, artist and art lecturer. Learn about the how the belief in the afterlife influenced the life and culture of the Ancient Egyptians. See how the daily life of the Egyptians is recorded in the art. Learn why the Funerary Items are treasured as art. Learn about a woman Pharaoh and some special correlations to Passover, from the Book of the Dead. Then join me for an ART LESSON in Central Park. We will find a very tall Egyptian monument in Central Park. You will have time to render a drawing. I will provide all supplies. Come dressed for a mess, as supplies can be very messy. We will be using chalk pastels, craypaz and colored pencils.

Arrive at steps of Metropolitan Museum at 10:30

Brown bag your lunch, we will walk together to enjoy our picnic like lunch in Central Park near our location for the Art Project.

Begin our Art workshop approximately at 1:00 to 2:00

Finish at 3:30

Total Experience: Ancient Egyptian Art Lecture and workshop:
$70.00 plus group admission fee of $16.00, per person

* Minimum trip enrollment of 5 people must be met by Thursday April 3rd or trip may be cancelled.

To Register: Call Sheryl Intrator Urman @ 201 503 9796 or email at Artforlearning@yahoo.com