The Complete Picture: Art and History
Modern Art Leading up to Cubism
New Leonard A. Lauder Cubism Collection

Metropolitan Museum of Art
Wednesday January 7, 2015

Art For Learning, LLC.

With Sheryl Intrator Urman,
Artist, Curator and Art Lecturer

Meet us at 11:00 am as Sheryl Intrator Urman will take you back in time as the docent for a private tour. She will give a background talk and tour of the Modern Art Collection as we view highlights of the Met's massive collection in a new light and learn about the development of Modern Art leading up to Cubism. Years of exploration of the Met make Sheryl able to connect the dots for us. She makes the artworks, the progression of styles, and the artists' role's come to life.

Cubism, the most influential art movement of the early 20th century, still resonates today. It destroyed traditional illusionism in painting and radically changed the way we see the world. Sheryl will help us understand how this collection was developed and why it is so important. She will help us uncover the mysteries of the 'funny shapes'! Anecdotes about the artists are fascinating, too!

Suggest a quick lunch in the cafeteria downstairs – on your own to choose from the extensive offerings of all kinds. Or a more leisurely lunch - your choice.

Then it is on to the new, blockbuster exhibit of the Leonard A. Lauder Cubism Collection, which displays the vast holdings of this philanthropist for the first time! You will have an Audio Guide (no docents permitted) to visit these now familiar works at your own pace.
