Parks and Private Gardens and their importance to the Impressionists

Metropolitan Museum of Art

Tuesday, October 16th, 2018

Meet me at the Met: at 10:45 when Sheryl Intrator Urman, artist and art lecturer, will be our Docent and take us through Mets vast Galleries. Put on your walking shoes; we will be traveling through many galleries. We will be traveling back in time to ancient Egypt, Middle East, China, Rome and America. See how the Met has replicated open spaces to highlight art and architecture. Sheryl will then introduce us to a female American Impressionist and other American Impressionists so we will be prepared for the special exhibition focusing on the French Impressionists.

Lunch together in Cafeteria. (not included/something for everyone).

After lunch we will visit The European Galleries to see how the Impressionists portrayed Parks and Private Gardens we will learn the importance of these spacious places in Paris and how it lead to some of the most beautiful Impressionist art works, spanning the late eighteenth through early twentieth century. We will see artwork of the nineteenth-century artists who celebrated the out-of-doors as a place of leisure, renewal, and inspiration, we will explore horticultural developments that reshaped the landscape of France in an era that gave rise to Naturalism, Impressionism, and Art Nouveau.
