

Art for Learning, LLC.

Salon style setting, in the spirit of the Impressionists, a new lecture and presentation:

Impressionism, Fashion and Modernity

Exhibition at:
METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART
Monday May 6th, 2013

"The latest fashion . . . is absolutely necessary for a painting. It's what matters most." —
Édouard Manet, 1881

Join us for a fun and informative Art Experience will start at 10:30 am - at my "Englewood Salon". Relax over French croissants, chocolates, coffee and tea, (Kosher) while Sheryl Urman, art lecturer and artist, will present an overview of this exciting exhibit, which came straight from Paris.

Learn more about the life and times of the Impressionists - putting these wonderful paintings and sumptuous fashions into social and historic context. And of course, we will also discuss the groundbreaking aspects of Impressionist art.

The Exhibition at the Met will be closing May 27th. No docents not allowed; so you can visit on your own. If you have already done so use this as a time to remember and reflect, if you have not yet seen the show this will be your introduction.

Interested in painting like the Impressionists?? Ask Sheryl about making this a complete Art Experience with a "painting in the style of" session!!

Salon Style Lecture: Only: $25

For more info on the exhibit: metmuseum.org/en/exhibitions/listings/2013/impressionism-fashion-modernity--

Let me know if you are interested - and please tell others who might be.

Art for Learning, LLC.

201 503 9796

Artforlearning@yahoo.com